NOTICE.

THE following Register has been prepared for the gratification of many of the descendants of DAVID ATWATER, who have expressed a desire to trace the line of their descent from him. Great care has been taken to make it correct ; some errors, however, may possibly be found, and unquestionably there are many omissions.

Information which will render the Register more complete and more correct, will be thankfully received by Rev. EDWARD E. ATWATER, 58 Court street, New Haven, Conn.

To each name a number is prefixed which it always retains, and by which it may be easily distinguished ; and to allow omissions to be numbered when supplied, a gap in the numeration has usually been left between families.

In regard to the orthography of the name, usage differs ; some writing Atwater, and others Attwater. The men who brought the name to this country have, each with his own hand, written it upon the Public Records of the New Haven Colony—the one David Atwater and the other Joshua Atwater—in neither case using the letter t more than twice. Fugill, however, the first clerk of the Colony, wherever he has occasion to write the name, uses t three times. If the orthographical question is carried farther back than the first introduction of the name into America, it will be found that the name was originally written Attewater, in which form it may be found in Doomsday Book, like its cognates Attewell, Attewood, and some others which have now lost the prefix, as Attetownsend. Afterward the first e was dropped, and the name was written Attwater, as it is generally if not universally written in England to this day.

It has been found impossible to designate those branches of the family who differ from the more commonly received method of spelling, which is, ATWATER.

INTRODUCTION.

JOSHUA ATWATER and DAVID ATWATER were among the first planters of New Haven, as their autographs in the first volume of the Town Records sufficiently prove.

Tradition says that the family of Joshua, in the male line, soon became extinct; and all researches yet made serve to confirm it. He was probably a married man at the time of his emigration, as his family is numbered as two persons in the list of planters. If this be so, he soon lost his wife, for he married Mary Blackman, the daughter of a clergyman in Stratford, May 6th, 1651, by whom he had two sons and one or more daughters. The birth of his oldest son is recorded on the New Haven Town Records, and the baptism of two other children on the Records of the First Church, the birth of one of which may be found recorded on the Town Records of Milford. Previous to 1665, or early in that year, he removed to Boston, as in a deed dated "the 19th day of the 4th month (called June)" of that year, by which he conveyed to his brother David his house and lands in New Haven, he describes himself as "Joshua Atwater of Boston, New England."*

If it be true that the family of Joshua in the male line became extinct, all in America who bear the name of Atwater are descendants of David. None have yet been found who could not trace their lineage, by means of this register, to him.
